

As an Executive Mentor, Author, Speaker and Team Trainer Robert White utilizes a rich personal history of entrepreneurial and high-impact learning successes in working with executives and their teams to develop extraordinary personal leadership skills, focus, alignment, and commitment.

Robert's experience includes founding and leading leadership development training industry success stories Lifespring and ARC International. These companies graduated over 1,300,000 leaders from high-impact experiential learning seminars. His international experience as a CEO includes living and working in Japan, Hong Kong and Mainland China for a total of 23 years.

Robert White also founded, served as Publisher and later sold Woodlands Press which produced nine, award-winning coffee table books about our National Parks including Yellowstone, Olympic, Mount Rainier, The Great Smokies and The Grand Tetons.

Robert is a Baden Powell Fellow of the World Scout Foundation and serves on the Board of Directors of Plant It 2020. Having had the privilege of adopting two special needs children, he is an active supporter of the Kempe Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect plus the Adoption Exchange.

Robert White authored essays for the award-winning photo journal One World One People and his book Living an Extraordinary Life, available in English, Traditional plus Simplified Chinese, has been positively reviewed by Ken Blanchard, Jimmy Calano, Tom Crum and many other business leaders. AudioFile Magazine awarded Robert's audio home study program published by Nightingale Conant, Achieving Extraordinary Success, its 2011 Earphones Award for "Best Spoken Word Personal Development Program."

Robert leads Extraordinary People llc where he mentors leaders and teambers; emails a weekly "Extraordinary Minute;" and interviews business leaders on podcast Conversations with Achievers. He returned in 2020 from six-years in China with over 20,000 aspiring leaders graduating from his trainings.